

THE DIGI-LEARN NEWSLETTER

Tuesday, June 17, 2025

The official Digi-Learn website

The Digi-Learn official website is online! A central hub to explore the project's goals, activities, and resources dedicated to digital education for adults—especially senior learners and trainers.

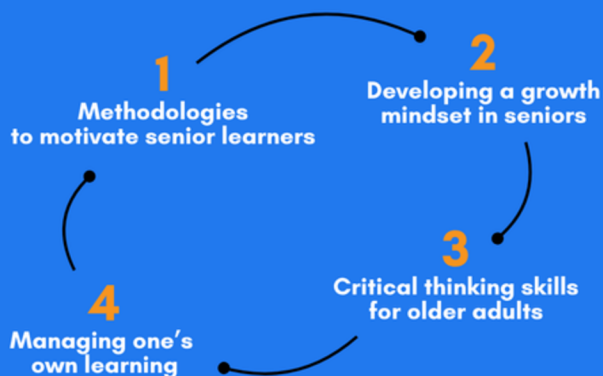

The platform features updates on webinars, best practices, and training tools, and it's constantly evolving.

👉 Visit and bookmark it:
<https://digilearnproject.eu>

🔔 Many new contents
are coming soon!

01/02

Digi-Learn e-learning modules are coming!

During the project meeting on May 5th, the team finalized the upcoming release of four e-learning modules focused on digital education for seniors and adult trainers.

Each module includes engaging, multilingual content: videos, infographics, interactive quizzes, and more.

Here's what's coming:

- Motivating senior learners
- Developing a growth mindset in seniors
- Critical thinking for older adults
- Managing one's own learning

The materials will be available soon on the official website → <https://digilearnproject.eu>

Learning to learn in digital environments

Digi-Learn supports adults and trainers in developing digital skills, focusing on the key competence of learning to learn. The project identifies best practices, creates tailored training programs, and develops an e-learning platform combining online and in-person activities.

A long-term vision shaped by the real needs of both educators and learners, combining online and face-to-face activities.

Stay tuned for upcoming updates and new resources.

02/02